The Power of One is...

- Open to all and free to the public

Participants will walk away with...

- solid tools for continued personal and professional growth
- a renewed belief in their potential to impact their community
- raised awareness of volunteer opportunities
- redefined concept of "neighbor"
- and the inspiration to make themselves, their families and the region better

Then help us as we build a new playground for the kids of the area, at Moores Road

Ian Hill doesn't just talk the talk, he walks the walk. From his humble beginnings as an adopted at-risk youth, to running a multi-million dollar operation with 1,000 employees, spearheading first-of-their-kind schools, launching a philanthropic fund for homeless youth or initiating an outreach project to Africa, he has been recognized for being a catalyst for positive change throughout North America.
